

Abstract: This chapter aims at reviewing recent changes in national and EU policies including policies in support of internationalisation of higher education. It is based on available data and indicators about student mobility, staff mobility, internationalisation of research, international programmes and national support programmes for internationalisation, as well as interviews conducted by the research team with major actors of the Portuguese HE system.